About mail order houses. When you order from a mail order house you not only send away the profit which the home merchant should make, but also send away the first cost of the article. Now, when a thing is made in Monroe and sold in Monroe we keep at home both the cost of the manufacture and the profit of the retailer. Our ice is made right here in Monroe and all the money received for it is kept here and spent here. Any reason to "order on" for ice when you can get a better quality at home for the same price?

MANY GOOD CITIZENS THINK NOT.

Your Speed the Sharples Speed

Every member of the family turns the separator crank at a different rate. Your present separator loses a lot of cream when the speed drops below normal. This loss amounts to more than you realize.

No matter who turns the crank, fast or slow,

THE NEW SHARPLES SUCTION-FEED

Separator gets all the cream all the time. The bowl draws in just enough milk to insure clean skimming. More cream means more money—a new profit without added expense.

The Suction-feed has many other important advantages. The cream is always of the exact thickness desired. The capacity increases with the speed. The large supply can be but knee-high—easy to fill.

The bowl has only three parts and no disks. There's nothing that's heavy, clumsy or fussy to wash.

We want you to see this superb new machine. Come in and let us show you what it will do.

Student Late With a Cotton Bloom.

Correspondence of The Journal.

Gibson Mills, via Rockingham.—Hello readers and correspondents! It now becomes my pleasure of sending to The Good Old Journal the first cotton bloom, so far as I know, at this writing, June 27. We have some now, but I secured this bloom from our neighbor, Mr. Paul Bennett, who is an autoist, farmer, ginmer and miller all in one, and a right good old kind of a cuss too. He's married but that don't hurt him much. By the way boys, he taught me all about mills and I tended the mill Monday and ground corn and peas to beat the band. But of course this was not my first time to tend the mill but I just mentioned a late date. And as for a Ford automobile, oh yes! I have seen all of its intestines and each piece laid out and explained to me by Mr. Bennett, who is a professional auto doctor. He and I have had some pleasant spins, and for mirth he can't be beaten. It is mighty nice to find good friends when you go into a strange neighborhood, because I know.

People of Union, I gave somewhat of a glowing crop report some time ago and it was true then, but we have not been dry enough to plow since. Crops are drowned out in this sand, so these people say. For the last three weeks we have had one big rain after another. There is no great cry about grass at all, but cotton here is scalded clear to the top—some of the leaves are half dead, dead spots in them as most of you farmers have seen. The height is good, but now the prospects are that it is almost as large as it will get to be. At this time we are even too wet to hoe, and now, 9:45, it is thundering and looks as though we will have more rain. Crops are pretty fair though it is too rainy. Lots of the cotton is knee high and some over.—The Student.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railways be disposed of by one of the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employes, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.
